Open European Workshop

“The future challenges of European Continuing Vocational Education and Training after COVID 19”

10-11 November 2020 - Rome

The Open European Workshop will be an online (as Webinar) event. It falls within the European training initiative and the vocational skills week (https://ec.europa.eu/social/vocational-skills-week/european-vocational-skills-week-2017_en) which takes place during 09-13 November 2020.

Open European Workshop

The COVID-19 pandemic crisis represents indeed a challenging time, for Craft and SME enterprises. The new crisis that emerged, besides its own short term economic and social consequences, creates new structural order and unavoidably will transform crafts and SMEs needs, innovation processes, and digitalization of enterprises: smart working, virtual conferencing, e-learning: and the answers to the challenging situation are digital.

It is widely acknowledged that C-VET rules in many European countries are still bounded by regional or national regulations that don't appropriate effectively the potential of digitalization or e-learning possibilities and in VET courses as a means to enhance innovation and smooth digital transition. The moment seems fertile for open discussion with institutional stakeholders to make the digitalization of C-VET a permanent process for European CRAFT and SMEs.

While pandemic crisis had a strong impact on the economy and way of life, there are now more rooms for regions and political stakeholders that they could reason about how to amend these regulations.

For this reason, C-VET providers and networks are called to answer to the Craft and SMEs needs and the incoming request of technologies and innovative didactical models to upskill or reskill, in the most efficient way, employees of companies that need to reposition themselves into a different social environment and market.

From another point of view, now more than ever, VET providers need to find a common European answer in order to foster the exchange of good practices and experiences in digital learning and find a common ground to propose innovations to regional, national and European stakeholders.

That is: open workshop's objectives will be to develop a coherent strategy towards the effective transition of SMEs and crafts in new digital era, which encompasses additional environmental and health considerations, while at the same time to establish a network of cooperation between national and European counterparts which will provide useful insights and recommendations for the promotion of a common and diversified VET policy, based on SMEs needs in line with economy's and society's prerogatives.

The target groups for the conference is composed of Craft and SME training bodies offering in adult education, continuous VET national providers, EU and national institutions which formulate and implement VET policies, institutional stakeholders as well as research institutes, universities and technological bodies and apprenticeship centers.

The workshop is organized in the framework of Crafts and SMEs vocational and educational training network, that is an EU innovative Platform supported by the EC ERASMUS + Program. Five distinct training, research and representative bodies at National and European level (ECIPA CNA, EFQBL, IME GSEVEE, PIMEC) participate in a European project consortium which aims to establish a network for the development of value added continuous vocational and educational training to support Craft & SMEs in their cross sector digital transition.

The Open European Virtual Workshop falls within the European training initiative and the vocational skills week (https://ec.europa.eu/social/vocational-skills-week/latest_en) which takes place during 09 - 13 November 2020.
